WITHIN a few days a good many puddlers have arrived in this city, from Europe, and found employment. They report that many more are making arrangements to follow shortly. The high prices paid here furnish strong inducements to the immigration of workers in iron.

BY ORDER of the County Executive Committee, through its Chairman, JOHN W. RIDDELL, Esq., the Union Republican voters of the county of Allegheny will meet at their respective places of holding elections, this afternoon, to elect two Delegates from each election precinct to a County Convention, to be held at the Court House, in the City of Pittsburgh, on Tuesday next, June 4th, at 11 o'clock A. M., to nominate a ticket for County Offices, and the election of Delegates to the State Convention.

The meetings will be held in the Wards and Boroughs between the hours of 3 and 7 o'clock P. M., and the voting be by ballot. In the Townships between the hours of 4 and 6 P. M., and the delegates chosen by marking.

Pursuant to a resolution of the Executive Committee, the Convention for the selection of Legislative candidates will not be convened until September 3d, 1867, of which due notice will be given in our columns.

IN THESE days of advancement, the injured husband can safely take into his own hands the law and visit the penalty of death upon the unfortunate wight who happens to seduce a frail wife from virtue. Juries are ready to discover insanity in the murderer of a guilty paramour, in their overzealous desire that the prisoner should escape punishment. The feeling may be pardoned as it is quite natural, but such verdicts have a bad effect on society and encourage the perpetration of bloody deeds by those who should seek redress through lawful means and measures. The telegraph this morning adds one more to the list of insane murderers who have avenged their private wrongs by the taking away of human life. A little judicious hanging of this class of culprits might mend matters and prevent much crime in the future.

THE MOBILE REPUBLICAN has been suppressed by Military authority on the ground that an article directing the Freedmen where, when and how to use firearms excited to breaches of the peace. We know that Liberty of the Press, as of speech, is often misused. Illustrations of this fact, in considerable numbers, pass under our eyes every day, even in Northern journals, not a few of them Republican in politics. But we do not believe in stopping a man's mouth because he makes a bad use of his tongue, or suppressing a newspaper because its conductor is neither a Solomon nor a Moses. We prefer Freedom, even with some admixture of violence, to the best ordered Despotism that ever existed.

IT WILL be remembered that the Italian Parliament threw out the government bill for disposing of church properties, because it was too favorable to the ecclesiastics. Since then the King has been negotiating with the Pope on the question, and has promised to assume dictatorial power in case the Parliament shall persist in rejecting the measure. This would be a serious step for the King to take, and the unanimity of the Parliament was so great, and in such manifest accordance with the popular will, that he could hardly expect to maintain a dictatorship without the aid of the Catholic powers.

CHARLES O'CONNOR has given a written opinion to the effect that Slavery has not been legally abolished, the Constitutional Amendment not having been ratified as he thinks it out to be. Slavery was abolished by Proclamation, under Martial Law, and all the lawyers in the country cannot quibble it back into existence. A serious attempt to restore it would lead to "a war of races" that would appall the whole race of hair-splitters. Besides, the revolted States will not get back into the Union until they shall so ratify the Constitutional Amendment as to put its validity beyond cavil.

A BORDER STATE CONVENTION, favorable to manhood suffrage throughout the Union, has been called by the Republican State Committee of Maryland, to assemble in Baltimore on the 12th of September next. Emanating from Maryland, the call will doubtless be responded to by all the border States, and the Convention prove an important public gathering.

THE fresh rumors of another Fenian raid do not frighten the citizens of the Dominion of Canada. The fact is, the Fenians have promised so much, and performed so little, that they have ceased to excite alarm, except for the security of the more reckless among their own number.

THE Avenir National wittily observes that the present situation may be summed up in a single phrase: "Now that we have made peace, let's fight." The tone of the Prussian and French journals, particularly the former, indicates that this is more than a witticism.

THE testimony of Gen. Pope and Col. Shepherd, as to the Mobile riot, is very strong. The riot was premeditated and unprovoked. No wonder Mr. Kelley did not see proper to go back, to give the rascals a chance to shoot at him again!

A PHILADELPHIA doctor has been held to bail for firing a loaded gun at a gentleman who called at an unreasonable hour of night to secure, for a member of his family, the professional services of the irritable pill box disciple.

THE PRESIDENT has determined to reinstate the Mayor and Council of Mobile, removed by General Pope for negligence in preserving order on the occasion of Mr. Kelley's speech.

HON. MORROW B. LOWRY, in a reply to a letter signed by three hundred citizens of Titusville, Crawford county, has announced himself a candidate for re-election to the State Senate.

IT IS thought by Mr. Seward that Juarez will do by Maximilian as President Lincoln wanted Gen. Sherman to do by the rebel leaders—let him escape.

THE British Admiralty is about to engage in a series of experiments at Woolwich, to determine the comparative value of oils as fuel.

RUSSIA has an active army numbering nearly a million soldiers. This force can be increased fifty per cent. at the slightest notice.

CONNECTICUT is about to fall into the popular error of making eight hours constitute a legal day's work.

IT IS estimated that one and a half billion of dollars are employed as railroad capital in the United States.

The London Times' article of the 21st, on Mexican affairs, says that Juarez can neither construct nor maintain a Government, and it appears to be believed that the United States must attempt an intervention. The Mexicans are incapable of self-government. The Americans may be reluctant to undertake it, but they brought it on themselves, for the American Government will have the French must quit Mexico. They will experience some resistance as the French did, but they have greater advantages in overcoming it. Whatever cause or principle of policy they proclaim, they will find a faction to oppose their intervention and rise in insurrection. This opposition they must suppress, as the French would have done, by force of arms, and with little respect to the doctrines of nationality or independence. The work will be probably troublesome, but as there will at any rate be nobody to hinder it, we may presume it will be accomplished at last.

Third and Closing Day of Sunday School Convention—Reports from Counties—Black Board Exercise—Lively Discussion on Resolutions from the Committee on Resolutions—National Convention to be called—Pittsburgh Selected as the place of next State Convention—State Organization perfected—Closing Matters—Social Gathering—Girard House—Personal.

[Special Correspondence Pittsburgh Gazette.]

PHILADELPHIA, May, 30, 1867.

The morning session was prefaced with a full hour of devotional exercises, under the direction of Rev. Mr. Kennard. At 9 o'clock, President Pollock took the chair, and after some routine matters were disposed of, reports from counties were resumed, commencing with Delaware county. Representations were made from Bradford, Erie, Huntingdon, Indiana, Lancaster, Lawrence Luzerne, and Mercer counties.

Mr. Jacob Brinkenhoff, of New York, was elected a Corresponding Member of the Convention.

Blackboard exercises were taken up, Mr. McMillan gave a rapid sketch of the manner in which he illustrated his teachings in the Sabbath school. Picture teaching was represented as the clearest mode of getting the children's attention.

Mr. E. J. Cowell spoke of the different methods of teaching. He traced the various stages of human life, and then adverted to the customs of the ancients

Rev. Alfred Taylor followed with a lengthy black board exercise. His representations were of a striking character, and in his characteristic style. In illustration of teaching he gave a description of the nations that worshipped Baal. He also illustrated various doctrines to show how readily children will learn to find passages of Scripture.

Committee on Resolutions reported on the resolutions recommitted to them at yesterday's session, in brief, as follows: Thanks to Superintendent of Common Schools for his proffer of co-operation and offering facilities to the Sunday School system; fears for the youths of our State entering manhood and womanhood, because of their disposition to absent themselves from the Sabbath Schools; regret expressed that so many unworthy books are allowed to be placed in Sunday School libraries, and recommending care in their selection; complaining that while music is indispensable to the interests and efficiency of Sabbath Schools, the range of topics is too limited, both in hymns and tunes; Sunday School Institutes, in connection with theological seminaries, commended; grading of schools in separate departments with text books suggested antecedent to all, and above all, and in all, is the sanctifying influence of the Holy Spirit, as the motive power, the one thing needful, the sine qua non, without which all means will fail. In the discussion of these resolutions considerable feeling arose in regard to the phraseology of some of them. However, they passed with but little change from the original form.

Afternoon session was opened with the usual devotional exercises, under the direction of Mr. A. Martin.

The following resolution was passed:

Resolved, As the sense of this Convention, that the duties and responsibilities of teachers in Sunday Schools are in many respects analagous to those of a minister of the gospel, and partake of that solemn and holy character; it is therefore incumbent on teachers to consider that they are co-workers with the ministers of the Lord Jesus Christ, in training the Lambs of Christ's flock, and that if they do not powerfully and diligently use the talents with which God has endowed them, and resort to all proper means to fit themselves, both intellectually and spiritually, for their work in the Lord's Vineyard, (or without the most imperative cause withdraw from His service) they incur a fearful responsibility, for which they must account to God. Also, that members of churches who are capable of becoming teachers, and refuse, do not, by their refusal, exempt themselves from a like responsibility.

Representatives were present from the Home for Little Wanderers, who sung some delightful songs. This charity was commended.

The following preamble and resolution was adopted:

WHEREAS, The first National Sabbath School Convention ever held in this country, was in the city of Philadelphia, in February, 1859, and as the first decade of years then expires;

Resolved, That the Committee appointed at the last National Convention in assembling the Convention, of which Mr. George H. Stuart is chairman, be requested to extend an invitation to the various conventions of the Union at their sessions in next year, to meet in this city on the last Tuesday of May, 1869.

Mr. George Cookman moved that another convention be held on the third Tuesday in May, 1868, which was adopted. After some spicy remarks on the representations of places, such as Philadelphia, Meadville, &c., PITTSBURGH was chosen with great unanimity.

We should have stated that resolutions were adopted in the early part of the day expressing gratitude for the action of the Legislature in closing places for the sale of intoxicating drinks on the Sabbath, believing that a field of usefulness is thereby opened for increased Sabbath School work, and also urging ministers, superintendents and teachers to inculcate more thoroughly upon the minds of scholars the importance of a better observance of the Sabbath day.

The Committee on State organization reported a form of Constitution for the consideration of the Convention. It was then considered article by article. The Constitution, in brief, is as follows: First section states the object to be to unite all Evangelical Christians throughout the State to promote the Sabbath School institution and the formation of county organizations. Second—Officers, a President, two Vice Presidents for each denomination; Secretary and Assistant Secretaries for each county; business committees from different parts of the State, &c.

Some portions of the proposed Constitution elicited a very spirited discussion, especially the appointment of a salaried Secretary, which, however, was finally ordered, and the powers the Business Committee should possess in regard to the appointment of county Secretaries. There seemed to be a disposition to try the experiment this year, and whatever defects were seen in the instrument, could be stricken out or modified to suit the exigencies hereafter. Considerable stress was made upon the success resulting from the Ohio and New York State organizations, as a reason for perfecting one in this State. Heretofore occasional State Conventions have been held, without reference to any system or plan of operations, the lack of which led to the inauguration of all the machinery in operation in other States.

At the close of the discussion on the State Organization and action thereon, some resolutions and routine matters filled the remainder of the session.

As already stated the Convention closed with a social gathering under the supervision of a committee of lady teachers of Philadelphia. The ladies made great preparations to make the event pass off with great eclat, and they happily succeeded in rendering the event a merry one, and one that will long be remembered by those who were present. Ex-Governor Pollock presided, and made the welcome address, after which suitable religious services were held. The profusion of good things of the most tempting epicurean kind, as usual, brought out quite a flow of speeches from the delegates, which served to while away time rapidly and pleasantly.

Your correspondent, besides those named, was greatly facilitated by kind attentions from Mr. George Cookman, brother of Rev. Alfred Cookman, a layman of much practical worth in the praiseworthy movements of the day; from Rev. T. S. Thomas, a prominent book seller; Rev. Mr. Cummings, and others. Mr. H. W. Kanaga, proprietor of the Girard House, our host, did everything to make our stay pleasant in his excellent and well appointed hotel. It is no marvel that his house is crowded with guests, with a good sprinkle from the West.

Maryland Constitutional Convention—Slavery Question.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, May 31.—An Annapolis, Maryland, special says: The adoption of the substitute by the Convention for the 24th article of the Bill of Rights, as originally reported by the Committee on Bill of Rights, by the large majority of 76 to 24, fairly and clearly defines the position of the body on the question. The substitute reads, that slavery shall not be re-established in this State, but having been abolished under the policy and authority of the United States, compensation in consideration thereof is due from the United States. The original article was simply, slavery shall not be permitted in the State.

The Times' special says: In the Maryland Constitutional Convention, on Tuesday morning, Mr. Peters, a delegate, said he had received a letter from Charles O'Conner, of New York, in which he expressed the opinion that slavery has never been lawfully abolished, and that the amendment to that effect has no place in the Constitution. Mr. Peters quoted this opinion to sustain his argument in favor of allowing slaveholders to claim compensation for emancipated slaves.

In the State Convention, by a vote of sixty to forty, it was decided that the question of removing the disability heretofore imposed on negroes, preventing them testifying in the Courts of the State, ought to be settled by the Convention, and the Constitution now being formed ought to contain a provision removing such disability.

Citizen Thrown from a Horse and Drowned—Body not Found.

[By Atlantic and Pacific Telegraph Company.]

OIL CITY, PA., May 31.—As Frederick Keister was riding into the river to water his horse, this afternoon, the horse fell down in the water, throwing Mr. Keister off. He disappeared, and blood being found on the water leads to the supposition that the horse kicked him while under water. His body has not been recovered. He leaves a large family to mourn his loss.

The Monumental Fair.

The attendance at the Fair continues unabated. The hall last night was filled with a fashionable audience, who appeared well pleased with the entertainments, and gave liberally of their means toward the object for which it is intended. The vote on the

PRIZE ARTICLES

Remains in about the same proportion as reported in yesterday morning's paper. On the Hose carriage the Hope still keeps ahead. The largest vote on the silver horn is for the Good Intent. The vote for the other prize articles remains with the same names in advance as reported yesterday.

THE LAWRENCEVILLE BOOTH

Under charge of Mrs. Leonard S. Johns, not noticed fully in our columns before, has now a full supply of all manner of useful articles on hand to be disposed of at moderate rates. Fancy and domestic articles of all descriptions can be found here, including everything ornamental or useful in a household. Mrs. Johns is assisted in the management of the booth by Misses Bingham, Robinson, Snowden, Faler, Steel, Chamberlain and other young ladies of the borough, who display commendable energy in their work. At this booth can be found photographs of Rev. H. Lee, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, and which we understand prove a very remunerative article of the exhibition. The table is situated on the right of the hall, No. 3 from the entrance.

THE EXPRESS OFFICE,

About the center of the Hall, on the left, have sold off their entire stock of goods, which speaks well for the ladies in charge, but will be supplied with a new stock this morning.

THE SUNNYSIDE BOOTH

Have had a regalia presented to them by Mr. James Park, valued at thirty dollars, which is to be raffled this evening.

"THE VARIETY"

Have a fine collection of coins and currency to be drawn during the progress of the Fair. This is entirely a cash transaction, and any person investing will certainly get money in exchange. The "Variety" is situated on the right of the Hall, near the entrance.

THE THIRD CHURCH

Have received a number of regalias, made by Miss Jennie Watts. These, although sold, are still on exhibition. We understand the Fair will nett a pretty fair profit from the articles.

The other booths throughout the hall have been fully noticed in our columns. Everything passes off pleasantly, and the Fair promises to come fully up to the anticipations of its friends.

THE RECEIPTS.

The total receipts up to closing last evening amount to eight thousand five hundred dollars.

After Remarks.

The gentlemen of the press and others who were in attendance from the city at the mass convention of the friends of the Monongahela Valley Railway project, held at Elizabeth, on Thursday feel specially obligated to Samuel Walker, Esq., (and family) of that borough. This venerable and respected citizen cordially received the entire party and hospitably entertained them during their stay, at his home-like mansion on the outskirts of that borough, and did everything in his power to render their visit pleasant and agreeable.

Owing to an accident the party was in imminent danger of being kept in the borough all night (an occurrence which could only be regretted by the enterprising members of the press whose purpose was to lay the minutes of the meeting before their readers next morning) but Mr. Thomas Walker was equal to the occasion, and in a two horse wagon drove some fourteen well made and substantial gentlemen to McKeesport over a road which fully demonstrated the great necessity for a railway track as a substitute. At McKeesport, the excursionists found a special train in waiting which had been telegraphed for to Pittsburgh by W. O. Hughart, Esq., the efficient and worthy President of the Connellsville road. Thus, through the courtesy and generous kindness of Mr. Thomas Walker and Mr. Hughart, the reporters arrived home safe and in season to prepare and lay before the readers of their respective journals, a full account of the highly interesting meeting of the day previous.

A Favorite Drive.

Everybody feels like enjoying the pleasant weather after the long season of damp, cold days through which we have passed. Trips to the country by rail and by river are not preferable to the quiet evening ride by horseback, carriage or buggy to some delightful spot over a smooth and compact road. There is but one pleasant drive in our neighborhood, which has a pleasant beginning, a pleasant continuance and a delightful end—the road to Perrysville. Few are unacquainted with its charms, and equally as few entertain any but the highest opinion of the White House at the terminus of the drive. Under the auspices of the new proprietor, Mr. Thomas Costamagna, this famous resort has obtained a high reputation, and now stands unequaled as a place of entertainment in Western Pennsylvania. Good meals, good attendance, and a well supplied bar, are among the attractions, while the universally known clever proprietor takes care that all of his guests are abundantly provided for and treated in the best manner imaginable. Drive no where else. Take the Suspension bridge and inquire of the toll keeper on the Allegheny side for the right road to Perrysville, drive to the White House, there take refreshment, and form the acquaintance of Mr. Costamagna, and our word for it you will appreciate the advice here given.

The order exists in every State but five, and in all the British Provinces, and the membership in America is upwards of one million, all pledged to total abstinence. The coming session of the Grand Lodge, owing to the great increase of the order in the State, and the general revival of the temperance movement, will be one of great interest and importance.

The alarm was caused by a shed in the rear of McCully's glass works, in Monongahela borough, taking fire. The engines of the city were on the ground in due time, but their services were not required.

The crowd in attendance during the evening was unusually large, and in the jam the watch and chain were pulled off by some adept in the business. Both articles together were valued at two hundred and twenty-five dollars. The police have since been on the lookout, but no traces of the missing articles discovered.

If nominated he will make an efficient and capable officer.

The accused was arrested and gave bail in the sum of five hundred dollars to answer the charge.

The parties reside in the Third ward. A warrant was issued.

A Word to the Wise—Had Her Pocket Picked.—At the Monumental Fair last night, Mrs. Brown, of the city, lost her pocket book containing about fifteen dollars, having most probably been taken from her pocket. ### Award of Prize Medals at the Paris Exposition.

The first grand gold prize medal at the World's Fair, at Paris, has been awarded to an American house, as will be seen by the annexed correspondence of the New York Weekly Review, under date of May 7th:

About the official decision in regard to the American pianos there is nothing known yet, but without doubt the firm of Steinway & Sons have been awarded the first gold medal. Their pianos have created a sensation, not only among the artists and manufacturers, but also among the most prominent amateurs. They have been played at private soirees at the residence of the Duke of Osmond, one of the most celebrated connoisseurs, at the residence of Gustave Dore and Pierre Veron, and Theodore Ritter has selected one of these pianos for the grand concert at the Opera Comique, which has been arranged by the literary and art societies of Paris.

It will be highly gratifying to our readers to learn the final result of awards made by the Supreme Jury on pianofortes at the International Exhibition, in Paris. We are pleased to state that the decision, according to private cable news of the 16th inst., is extremely flattering, and must be in the highest degree gratifying to the American musical public. Of the three International Gold Medals voted by the Jury, two have been awarded to America, classified according to merit. The first of these gold medals goes to our leading New York manufacturers, Messrs. Steinway & Sons; the second to Boston, and the third to Broadwood, of London, England. A number of second prizes (silver medals) go to various makers on the Continent and in England, and thus we have every reason to be proud of the decided victory achieved by our American exhibitors.—ED. W. R.

THEN AND NOW.

Soon after the accession of Mr. ANDREW JOHNSON to the Presidency he developed a Policy, which he has maintained ever since, and put in execution so far as Congress has left him at liberty to pursue his own inclinations. What is the essence of that Policy? To treat the rebellious States as though they had not rebelled, and the rebel leaders as though they had maintained an unshaken fidelity to the government.

This was the sentiment or principle that inspired the Cleveland Convention and the Philadelphia Convention.

To the former body HENRY WARD BEECHER addressed a letter that became notorious. In it he committed himself to the unconditional restoration of the rebels and the rebel States to their forfeited rights. This commitment raised a storm of indignation around the head of the reverend gentleman. The loyal men of the North, who had given up their sons for the defence of the country, or who had met the shock of battle in their own persons, would not consent to entertain the proposition of Universal Amnesty. They felt that great crimes had been perpetrated, for which great expiations ought to be exacted.

The Post, Commercial and Times of New York, the Commercial of Cincinnati, the Journal of Chicago, the Commercial of Pittsburgh, and many other newspapers of standing and influence, adopted the President's view, and stood by him in his efforts to carry it into effect, until the wrath of the people became so aroused against them that self-interest compelled them to desist. They did not cease because they wanted to, but because of the chastisement outraged loyalists inflicted on them in the withdrawal of business. Some of these journals were sharp on us for the reason that we did not see fit to coincide in their conduct or to imitate it. We thought then, as we think now, that the leaders of the rebellion, in their own persons, ought to make such atonement to the majesty of the laws as would serve as a warning through coming ages to all restless and aspiring men who may be tempted to involve the nation in the horrors of civil war.

In due time Congress, in the exercise of its constitutional authority, took up this matter, debated it thoroughly and with the greatest carefulness. Several measures were agreed upon. By these certain disabilities were inflicted on the more conspicuous rebels, and the rebel States were required to conform to such conditions as promised security for the future. All these provisions are exceedingly lenient. No other nation ever offered to close out a great rebellion on terms so magnanimous. All civilized nations stand to-day filled with wonder and astonishment at the moderation of the disabilities imposed.

Congress designed something more than this. It intended that JEFFERSON DAVIS and a few of his principal associates should be brought to trial and punishment, by the civil courts, and in conformity to the laws. But Congress has not power in the premises. The Executive and Judicial Departments control such proceedings as were contemplated. As we have said, it was part of the President's Policy not to have Mr. DAVIS or any other rebel tried and punished. That tableau in the Philadelphia Convention, wherein South Carolina and Massachusetts were depicted in loving embrace, meant much more than scenic representation. It was designed to symbolize the President's idea that a leading rebel State was to be welcomed as cordially as a leading loyal State, and that thenceforward there should be no such discrimination as loyal and rebel between citizens. This is why Mr. DAVIS was not turned over to the civil authorities and brought to punishment. Violence was done his rights as a citizen, in order to save his life as a man. He protested against his incarceration in defiance of the laws, but he knew that therein lay his only hope of escaping a felon's doom. He was so wrongfully held for two years; but the wrong was not so much to him as to the laws, and to the loyal masses who were interested to have the laws vindicated. When he could be held no longer, or, rather, when the time waited for had arrived when it was thought he could securely be enlarged, he was delivered from military imprisonment, in which he had been held without any rightful authority, and surrendered into the custody of the courts.

At this point Mr. HORACE GREELEY came forward and became one of his sureties. Now, mark! while Mr. GREELEY has indulged some harmless generalities about exchanging Universal Amnesty for Universal Suffrage, he has heartily sustained the Congressional Plan of Reconstruction, and done as much to commend it as any other man. He has not stood where Mr. BEECHER planted himself; nor is there any inconsistency between the criticisms he published on that gentleman's letter to the Cleveland Convention and his own conduct in the matter of the bailment.

What journals opened loudest on Mr. GREELEY? The New York Post, Times and Commercial, the Pittsburgh Commercial, and the rest of that set that formed, so to speak, the original body guard of the President when he started to betray the Republican party into the hands of its enemies. Mr. GREELEY did not go with them in the great betrayal they meditated, but was conspicuous in that rallying of the people which compelled them to desist. Now they have him, as they think, at a disadvantage, and they mean to make the most of the opportunity, both in taking revenge on him, and in re-instating themselves, so far as they can, in the confidence of the people whose sense of justice they so deeply insulted.

It would, however, be to judge superficially, to conclude that the outburst of indignation on the bailment of Mr. DAVIS was manufactured by these journals. Indeed, so far as they have expressed indignation, it is not presumable they have felt it in the slightest degree. The bailment was strictly in accordance with the President's programme, which they applauded at the start, and, doubtless, have approved all the way through, though they have not dared to say so.

No! the indignation on the part of the public was spontaneous and natural. It came, hot as the fire of a furnace, from the very depths of their being. They felt that Justice was defrauded; that the security of the laws was taken away; that the ensign of the nation had been lowered before the flag of the Confederacy; and that henceforward there was to be no distinction between those who imperiled the nation and those who rescued it. This indignation may, it is true, be carried to excess; but within certain limits, it is most healthful. It demonstrates to faithless rulers that the loyal people know their rights, and will maintain them.

PRICE OF LIVING.

Some months ago speculators in breadstuffs labored earnestly to create a popular impression that great danger of starvation was impending over this country. They insisted there was not enough wheat and corn to subsist the population until the new crop should come in.

In New York there is now quite a recession the Flour market, prices have The falling one to two dollars a barrel. finer grades, in which more apparent in the be the greatest deficiency there was said to strating that the statements thus demonstrating of scarcity were fallacious.

The new crop promises handsomely, and a few weeks hence Flour from new grain will be in market. By fall Flour will be down to reasonable prices.

In New York anthracite coal has gone down to $4.25 in currency. It was never lower even in gold.

At Chicago there is a decided panic in the Flour and Grain market. Prices have receded materially all round.

Consumers are not likely to sympathise with the speculators in any losses that befall them. They have had their day and made exorbitant profits, and now that prices are running down they can scarcely go too fast or far to suit the masses who have to buy. In this the consumers may run to excess. Old housekeepers, who stop to reflect, will quite unanimously bear testimony that Flour is not always paid for easiest when it commands the lowest price. There is a natural connection between the rates for leading articles in the various departments, so that they act and react upon each other. No greater calamity could befall the trading and manufacturing population than to have produce rule so low as to take from the agricultural classes the means of buying liberally.

COMMON SCHOOLS.

At the late session of the Legislature a supplement to the Common School Law was enacted. The second section provides—

"That after the passage of this act, no teacher in this Commonwealth shall receive from a County Superintendent (nor from the proposed City and Borough Superintendents in certain localities) a certificate as a teacher who has not a fair knowledge of orthography, reading, writing, geography, English grammer, mental and written arithmetic, history of the United States, and the theory of teaching, nor shall such certificate be given to any person who is in the habit of using as a beverage any intoxicating drinks, and all certificates given to teachers shall set forth the branches in which those holding them have been found proficient, and indicate by suitable marks the degree of that proficiency."

It further provides that henceforward there shall be three grades of certificates for teachers—Provisional, Professional and Permanent.

The Provisional Certificate is good for one year, but cannot be renewed without examination. The Professional Certificate is good for three years. The Permanent Certificate can be granted only by the State Superintendent, and to a person holding a Professional Certificate upon recommendation of a board or boards of directors in whose employment the applicant shall have taught for the three preceding years, countersigned by the County Superintendent and approved by a committee of five teachers appointed for the purpose who may examine if they think proper.

Heretofore, the Provisional Certificate has been without authority of law. It was adopted on account of the inadequate supply of teachers properly qualified. It should farther be noticed that Professional Certificates, issued before the passage of this act, expire June 1, 1868.

BY WAY of variety the Broadway merchants ask Councils of New York to remove the new bridge over that thoroughfare for the accommodation of pedestrians. The structure cost $20,000, but that amount of satisfaction, pride and novelty has already been obtained and the merchants are getting ready for something else to demonstrate their misguided enterprise.

THE Congregationalists of New York are about to establish an organ with a capital of $125,000, and a prominent Brooklyn minister as editor. This is to take the place of the Independent which recently cut loose from distinctive religious creeds of any and every sort.

ON THE New York Central and Hudson River Railway lines passenger fare is at the rate of two cents per mile. Both pay large dividends to shareholders.

THE National Soldiers Home of Ohio, is to be located at White Sulphur Springs.

JEFFERSON DAVIS.

An Important and Hitherto Unpublished Letter—The Programme of Secession.

The Hartford Press prints the following letter from an original manuscript now in that office:

WARREN CO., Miss., Nov. 10, 1860.

The Hon. R. B. RHETT, Jr., Dear Sir: —I had the honor to receive, last night, yours of the 27th ulto., and hasten to reply to the inquiries propounded. Reports of the election have little doubt that the event you anticipated has occurred, that electors have been chosen, securing the election of Lincoln, and I will answer on that supposition.

My home is so isolated that I have had no intercourse with those who might have aided me in forming an opinion as to the effect produced on the mind of our people by the result of the recent election, and the impressions which I communicate are founded upon antecedent expressions.

1. I doubt not the Gov'r of Missi. has convoked the Legislature to assemble within the present month, to decide upon the course which the State should adopt in the present emergency. Whether the Legislature will direct the call of a convention of the State, or appoint delegates to a convention of such Southern States as may be willing to consult together for adoption of a Southern plan of action, is doubtful.

2. If a convention of the State were assembled, the proposition to secede from the Union independently of support from neighboring States, would probably fail.

3. If South Carolina should first secede, and she alone should take such action, the position of Missi. would not probably be changed by that fact. A powerful obstacle to the separate action of Missi. is the want of a port, from which follows the consequence that, her trade being still conducted through the ports of the Union, her revenue would be diverted from her own support to that of a foreign government, and, being geographically unconnected with South Carolina, an alliance with her would not vary that state of case. [sic.]

4. The propriety of separate secession by So. Ca. depends so much upon collateral questions that I find it difficult to respond to your last inquiry, for the want of knowledge which would enable me to estimate the value of the elements involved in the issue, though exterior to your State. Georgia is necessary to connect you with Alabama, and thus to make effectual the co-operation of Missi. If Georgia would be lost by immediate action, but could be gained by delay, it seems clear to me that you should wait. If the secession of So. Ca. should be followed by an attempt to coerce her back into the Union, that act of usurpation, folly and wickedness would enlist every true Southern man for her defense. If it were attempted to blockade her ports and destroy her trade, a like result would be produced, and the commercial world would probably be added to her allies. It is therefore probable that neither of those measures would be adopted by any Administration, but that Federal ships would be sent to collect the duties on imports outside of the bar, that the commercial nations would feel little interest in that, and the Southern States would have little power to counteract it.

The planting States have a common interest of such magnitude, that their union, sooner or later, for the protection of that interest is certain. United they will have ample power for their own protection, and their exports will make for them allies of all commercial and manufacturing powers.

The new States have a heterogeneous population, and will be slower and less unanimous than those in which there is less of the Northern element in the body politic, but interest controls the policy of States, and finally all the planting communities must reach the same conclusion. My opinion is, therefore, as it has been, in favor of seeking to bring those States into co-operation before asking for a popular decision upon a new policy and relation to the nations of the earth. If So. Ca. should resolve to secede before that co-operation can be obtained, to go out leaving Georgia and Alabama, Louisiana in the Union, and without any reason to suppose they will follow her, there appears to me to be no advantage in waiting until the Govt. has passed into hostile hands and men have become familiarized to that injurious and offensive perversion of the General Government from the ends for which it was established. I have written with the freedom and carelessness of private correspondence, and regret that I could not give more precise information. Very respectfully, yours, etc.,

JEFF. DAVIS.

PARIS LETTER.

[Special Correspondence "Pittsburgh Gazette."]

PARIS, May 14, 1867.

The first exhibition, showing what the art of France had done, took place at Paris in 1798. In 1802, Napoleon being then first consul, feeling the necessity to occupy the minds of the Parisians, got up another exhibition on a grand scale, and there being a temporary peace between France and England, after a long war, a great number of English visitors were present. A third exposition, planned by Napoleon III., in 1853, and delayed until 1855, was held in the "Palais de l' Industrie." The fourth one, which will surpass all the preceding, by its size, beauty and importance, has been opened this year. On the opening day, the first of April, things appeared as if only half done. Persons, therefore, who had visited Paris in time to see the opening of the Exhibition, were greatly disappointed. But since that time how much different everything looks; what a change! Instead of stories of chips and dirt, and old packing boxes, desolate space, confusion and disappointment, we found at the opening,—we now see a splendid palace, surrounded by a garden, which is the marvel of the world and will probably be the last that will be gotten up any where for many years to come.

Here I stand on the heights of the Trocadero. The aspect presented to me, how agreeable and cheerful. Men have been at work and what Heaven could do has been given in full measure; no rain, no mist to-day. A bright, blue sky, sometimes interrupted by a little white cloud. Clear atmosphere, which admits of a distant view. To the right we may look as far as the heights of Meudon and Clamart, the favorite promenade of the "Quartier Latin," the student and the artist. The blue sky is reflected in the waters of the Seine, whose winding course may be traced though bridges and islands for miles. The Exposition Park is becoming every day more vivid and variegated. Gentle green covers the black soil; shrubs and trees have taken their spring color. Everywhere oriflames are drawn up in the air. France has displayed its tri-colors in all directions, intermingled with the Stars and Stripes, the Crescent, the Chinese Dragon.

Spring has come with all its splendor; we breathe a fresh balsamic air and our heart is as cheering as the surrounding nature. The park offers already a place where we may rest, and the birds are populating their new abodes with their nests, filling the air with lovely and joyful songs. Poor little things. I wonder what their thoughts may be! Last year, when they went away, the Champs de Mars was but a large barren tract of land, and now everywhere trees where they may build their nests; everywhere windows, arches, buildings where the swallows may shelter their little ones.

He who saw the Champs de Mars in former days will admit that the age of machinery can work wonders. A sandy plain without shade has been transformed into a splendid park with large trees and limpid lakes. Everywhere palaces are rising from the ground, and in its centre all the works and inventions which mankind have produced for centuries are collected together in a grand iron ring. The gardeners are working assiduously, fixing trees, planting flowers and leveling and cleaning foot-paths. The pattern houses of all nations are finished, and make the visitor believe that he is treading the soil of distant countries.

One of the most interesting buildings shows the Swedish manner of building in a true light. It is an exact fac simile of the house which Gustavus Wasa occupied near the mines of Talhun when he was pursued by Christian II, and which is kept to the present day in its original state by the patriotic Swedish nation. The whole is executed in wood, the roof being covered in moss, and the walls lined with shingles. A winding staircase leads to a gallery, which runs all round the house. The light is received through windows, which, according to the fashion of that time, are framed out of lead with long narrow strips. The house makes a charming impression and has caused great curiosity and wonder.

At some distance on the turf limpid water is running through little artificial rivers and lakes, the beds of which are plastered with asphaltum, and fishes may already be observed playing about in the clear stream. They were brought here from different places. The park of Fontainbleau contains ancient carps, which have been living through centuries; some, it is said, saw the days of Francis I. Even those old veterans were obliged to travel this year and change their haunts from Fontainbleau's Lake to the ponds in the Exposition Park. Were they not mute, what tale would they tell us; how they had been fed by the tender hands of Francis I.'s mistresses; how one king after the other promenaded on the banks of their lake, and how many amorous court ladies sighed their love confessions to bold cavaliers. Then came Abbees powdered and wigged, who talked about philosophers, who prepared the wicked revolution, during which the poor old fellows were nearly stoned to death. Then followed the Empire, and they saw Napoleon saying farewell to his Guard. Well might the aged carps be enraged against the cruel hands who caught them and brought them hither to be stared at by all the common folks. They will greet with joy the day on which the last stranger shall have left the Mars-Field and they are taken back to their old home in the lake of Fontainbleau.

As I am just speaking of animals, I will mention here that a whole caravan has arrived from Egypt, which brought along a real menagerie: an elephant, camels, dromedaries, lions, panthers, etc., with a collection of sundry kinds of small asses. They have all been quartered in the department belonging to the King of Egypt. In one of these rooms I saw two stuffed negresses, who, being entirely undressed, made a horrible impression. In another part of this caravansary, which shelters the industry of all five great divisions of the earth, we find a gigantic glass reservoir, which will not be the least among all those wonders which are promised to us. I mean the aquarium, which exposes the mysteries of the ocean to our view. In order to produce this aquarium, a cave was dug, encircled by walls, and numerous columns were erected of solid masonry, covered with stalactites and stalagmites. They look just as if Nature had shaped them with her own hands. Behind these pillars there is an iron structure supporting a glass roof, which supplies the cave with light from two sides. This forms the centre. The aquarium now occupies a double octagonal court, seventy feet in length. The sides of this peculiar edifice, twenty feet in night, are formed by slender iron columns, which are connected together by large glass panes. To the right and left of the aquarium are two galleries which make it possible to observe the fishes in the reservoir from below as well as from the sides. Attached to the reservoir is a cascade to keep the water in motion, which is obtained from the Atlantic ocean, and led into the reservoir by a special pump work. This fine work of art has only been completed recently, and at a great expense. The bottom of the sea appears like it really is, with its sandy bed, its strange fishes, insects, molluscs of every shape and description.

An aquarium of the same size will contain all fresh water fishes.

At the entrance of the Palace, that which strikes specially the attention is a display of monuments, temples and castles of all ages and all countries. Here is the Egyptian temple, the Mexican temple, the summer palace of the Bey of Tunis, the Turkish lodging house, the French Emperor's pavillion, the iron light-house, the Gothic church, and the Tower of Chimes; there the old rustic castle, the International Theatre, the Prussian hospital tent, the Swiss Railroad and the beautiful Winter Garden.

Then comes the Military Department. I remarked two enormous cannon which arrived recently, and which were cast in Ruelle. They weigh 36,000 kilos (720 tons) and had to be drawn by thirty-seven horses to the railroad. Prussia, too, is represented by a huge cannon, every shot of which costs two hundred and fifty dollars, and will send five hundred men into eternity. This amounts to fifty cents per man—certainly a cheaper way that than to have one's life extinguished by medicine and physicians.

In closing this letter I will not forget to mention one institution, which will convey us from the exhibition palace to our respective homes in a very comfortable way. Besides two telegraph offices have been established at the outlets of palace, which enable the visitors to telegraph to the Park gates, and let their coachman know at what time they are wanted. Certainly a very practical and welcome idea.

—Concerning the pay of the New York journalists, a correspondent of the Boston Voice says: "The Tribune employs fifteen reporters at an average salary of $25 per week; the Herald twenty-three, at an average of $17; the Times (a bitter opponent of the interests of working men) ten reporters at $23 per week average; the Sun (a rampant advocate of the labor movement) five men at an average of twelve dollars; the Post four at $15; the World eight at an average of $18; and the Express six, at an average of nine dollars."

A Horrible Murder—A Man Kills His Wife and Child and Blows Out His Own Brains.

The New Albany Ledger of the 28th contains the particulars of a fiendish murder, which occurred near the little town of Derby, Perry county, Indiana, on the 22d inst:

A man named Francis J. Smith, who formerly resided in Floyd county, and for a short time in New Albany, is the murderer and suicide. His wife, Mary, and his little son, Roger, were the victims of his fiendish malice and bloodthirstiness.

The murdered wife first met Smith in this county in the latter part of the year 1864. A short courtship followed, when they were married in 1865, and immediately removed to Perry county, near Derby, where Smith owned a farm. For a short time they lived pleasantly enough together; but after the birth of the boy Roger, which occurred in December, 1865, Smith frequently beat and abused his wife in the most shocking manner. He also treated the child with revolting cruelty, at one time holding it over a blazing fire until it was nearly roasted. The devilish spirit that actuated Smith to the perpetration of these barbarities was jealousy. He frequently denied the paternity of the child, and accused his wife of improper intimacy with a man who resided in the neighborhood.

Finally, unable longer to bear the persecutions heaped upon her by the brutal husband, Mrs. Smith left him and went to New York. She afterwards returned at her husband's request, and upon his promise to do better; but she was cruelly thrust from the house, and during the remainder of her life was a wanderer through the neighborhood, without any other home than what was given her through the charities of the people.

On Wednesday last Smith met his wife at the house of a neighbor, whither she had gone to seek assistance. She had concluded to seek aid from the township trustee, and Smith told her he would accompany her to that officer's residence, to which she assented. It was just before noon when they started. Smith took her by a circuitous out-of-the-way route, through the woods, and kept her and the child with him until near ten o'clock at night, when he reached a dark and secluded ravine. Here he bade the poor, wretched, heart-broken wife sit down at the root of a tree. The woman obeyed, and the fiendish husband then told her that he intended to kill both her and the child.

The night was dark and it was raining, and escape was vain. What pen can portray the horror and agony of the mother there in that dark forest alone with such a desperado as menaced her. There was horror in that scene beyond all powers of description.

Smith then proceeded deliberately to his work of murder. He seized a heavy stone, and with a single blow crushed in the skull of the mother. Not yet satisfied, he seized other stones and hured them against her head, until the vital spark had fled. With the same instrument of death he beat out the brains of the child. When both were dead he took the strings from the murdered wife's shoes, tied her feet together, then crossed her hands over her bosom and tied them in that position. He next took the child and placed it alongside the dead body of the mother, and with the mother's shawl covered up the victims of his murderous passion, and departed to his brother's residence, a few miles distant.

At the brother's house Smith wrote a letter, in which he pretended to detail the circumstances of his married life and of the murder, told what he had done what was in the letter, and then taking his brother's rifle he stepped out into the yard, placed the muzzle of the gun over his heart, set off the trigger with a stick, and fell to the ground dead, shot through the heart.

BE ON YOUR GUARD

Against the imitations and counterfeits of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, with which the PIRATES who make DISHONORABLE LIVING, by preying upon the sick and suffering, are now endeavoring to flood the markets of this country. Whenever these POISON-MONGERS are discovered they are immediately prosecuted by the proprietors, who expend thousands of dollars annually in tracing them out and bringing them to justice. Within a short time injunctions have been obtained in the Courts of the United States against a number of individuals and firms, and suits are now in progress against several others, all of whose names will be given to the public. But in spite of the utmost vigilance and activity of their detective agents, the undersigned are of course unable to protect the public entirely against piratical imitations of a Standard National Tonic, everywhere in request, and as readily convertible into cash as United States Bonds or Treasury Notes. They, therefore, as a measure of precaution, direct attention to the fact that a finely engraved label, representing St. George and the Dragon, and a beautiful proprietary stamp, bearing the official endorsement of the Government, appear on every bottle of the genuine BITTERS. The article is further authenticated by a miniature note of hand, with the signature of "Hostetter & Smith," to counterfeit which is a state prison crime. The true BITTERS are sold in bottles only, and never in bulk.
HOSTETTER & SMITH.

PINUS CANADENSIS.

A tree which is abundant in Canada, Nova Scotia, and the more northern parts of the New England States, and is also found in the elevated and mountainous regions of the Middle States, and abounds in medicinal virtues. Dr. Swett, of Boston, has prepared a medicine from the sweet inside bark of the pine tree, called POLAND'S WHITE PINE COMPOUND, which is one of rare value in all debilitated states of the kidneys. It acts like a charm in all diseases of mucous membranes, enabling them to regain their lost tone and energy. It will be found well adapted to all those diseases, where Buchu has been tried and failed. It is likewise well suited to chronic coughs, and an infallible specific for old and debilitated cases of asthma. Many persons who at first only took a bottle of this medicine, to try, afterwards came back and got a dozen, or half dozen, which effected radical cures of diseases of the bladder and kidney of years standing.

Diabetes, a disease that has been looked upon as among the incurables, is immediately relieved by it. Notice the certificate of Asa Goodnue, published some time ago.

The United States Dispensatory, speaking of the pine, says: "It is prescribed in leucorrhoea, gleet, and other diseases of the urinary passages; in piles and chronic inflammation or ulceration of the bowels, in chronic catarrhal affections, and in various forms of rheumatism." It is exceedingly valuable in all gravelly affections, bloody urine, and where there is red and white sediment. It can be taken without interruption to one's usual avocations; and instead of sickening, it induces a bracing, healthy power of endurance and vigor. Price, $1 per bottle; six for $5. Ask for POLAND'S WHITE PINE COMPOUND. For sale by the gross, dozen or single bottle, at DR. KEYSER'S Great Medicine store, 140 Wood street.

STONE DRAIN PIPE.
Vitrified Stone Drain Pipe

Is decidedly the best and cheapest medium for sewerage or drain purposes known. This pipe has the following advantages:
1st. Strength, having a resisting power nearly equal to iron.
2d. Durability, being non-corrosive, resisting acids and alkalies, and is not affected by frost or heat, and is perfectly indestructible.
3d. Cheapness, costing less than one-half the price of iron pipe.
For house drains or sewers it is superior to anything else, owing to the smooth surface of the interior.

J. C. TILTON'S
TOILET TRADE. CARBON SOAP. WASHING MARK.

WARRANTED always uniform in quality, and made from the purest materials. If not satisfactory, the purchase money, in all cases, will cheerfully be refunded. Try it and be convinced.
The CARBON SOAP is made similar to that of most all other
Best Standard Soap,
But in addition there has been a new and valuable chemical compound added in the finish, by which all that hardness so peculiar to other soap is entirely removed. The coarsest as well as the finest fabric can be washed with it and remain soft and glossy as new. One pound is equal to three pounds of ordinary Soap. And here lies its chief excellence over all other soap; it is simple, requiring no extensive or complicated direction for using. For bathing purposes it is certainly a luxury, leaving the skin soft and healthy, and can be safely used in washing the tenderest infant. For all cleaning and cleansing purposes it is without a rival.
Believing it to be SUPERIOR, and that it will be duly appreciated by a discriminating public, I desire it to stand upon its merits alone.
It contains no PETROLEUM, or any foreign substance; nothing of the kind.

Reminiscences of Early Settlers.

Mr. John Reynolds, of Meadville, Pa., furnishes the Republican with the following interesting scraps of early history:

The ten years which closed the 18th century witnessed the advent of many settlers into this region. The valleys of the navigable streams were the first choice, as no roads existed, and by water was the only means of transportation. All north and west of the Allegheny and Ohio rivers was a vast wilderness over which the Indian hunters roamed in pursuit of game. It was natural that they would look with jealousy at the influx of white men, and as a result they could not at all times restrain their malevolent feelings. They could ill brook the sure prospect of the conversion of their hunting grounds into peaceful farms of ancient foes.

The charms of war and the chase are rarely dissolved when they mingle with the memories of youth, even with civilized man, but they were all of life to the civilized warrior.

Red Jacket was asked by Jos. Ellicot (the founder of Batavia) what was his estimation of Western New York, as improved with roads, canals, cities, villages and well cultivated farms, as compared with his youthful remembrance, when the ancient forest and the wild game were the hunter's paradise. He said in reply—He fully estimated the greatness of the change, he believed that the white man was happier thereby, but for him and his people, the freedom of the forest, and the pursuit of game were more congenial, and therefore he preferred it as in his youth he saw it.

The aged Indians were taciturn and sullen, they had been ofttimes engaged in mortal combat with the pale faces, and their defeat by General Wayne, in 1794, although followed by a treaty, was not preventive of many acts of treachery and murder.

In the spring of 1795, two men "Finley and McCormick," were making raids on the land now in occupancy of D. Woodworth, near the outlet of Conneaut marsh; Indians surprised, shot and scalped them; about the same time, Gregg, Ray and Van Horne, were clearing and cultivating a field near the mouth of Cussewago creek, when the two former were surprised, Gregg killed and Ray captured. Van Horne was plowing, and had unhitched and come into the village to feed his horses and procure dinner for his comrades. On his return with his team and dinner, two Indians sprang from their ambush, and confronted him. Then he learned the fate of Gregg and Ray. One of the Indians levelled his gun at Van Horne, who adroitly seized the other, and with superior strength, interposed him between himself and the gun; at the same time capitulating for his life at the expense of his liberty. The prospect of gain governed the Indians. They ordered him to unharness the horses, and go with them. They took the horses and himself a few miles, where other Indians met them, and he was given in charge to one, who after pinioning his arms securely, pursued a westerly course until evening, when they were near Conneaut Lake. The captor then tied Van Horne securely by his arms with his back to a small tree, and left him, while he with his gun provided for their suppers. A small knife concealed in the cuff of his chapeau, gave Van Horn the means of regaining his liberty; he cut the thong that bound him to the sapling, but could not reach that by which his arms were pinioned; suffice it to say he escaped pursuit, and the next day reached the bank of French Creek, where now is Kerrtown. As the creek was too full to be waded, and he could not swim with his arms bound, he must needs wait until relief came from the village. Tradition says, when the canoe came over he was sitting weeding his onion bed, an experiment I presume never before tried, to weed a garden with pinioned arms.

Cornelius Van Horne, the hero of the above adventure, was one of the earliest settlers in this region. He settled the tract on which Kerrtown is located, and afterward the tract south, where he lived to old age, much esteemed and respected.

Thomas Ray, the other captive, was taken by his captors to the neighborhood of Detroit, and was ransomed by the officers of the British military posts. He returned home and settled a tract of land on the East bank of French Creek, where he resided until his death, many years ago.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
FRIDAY, May 31, 1867.

The New York stock quotations to-day, as received by Mr. P. R. Mertz, were as follows: Gold, 137⅛; Eighty-one bonds, 111⅛; Five Twenties, 1862, 109⅝; do 1864, 105⅛; do 1865, 106⅝; 1865 consols, 108; Ten Forties, 99¼; Seven Thirties, 106⅛@105⅝; Michigan Southern Railroad, 68⅛; Cleveland & Pittsburgh, 75; Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago, 96⅛; Erie, 59; Chicago and Rock Island, 88⅛; Chicago and Northwestern, 33⅛ do preferred, 50⅛; New York Central, 98¼; Reading, 103⅛.

Gold is firm at 137⅛. The opening price was 137, declined to 136⅞, and closed strong at 137⅛, with an advancing tendency. A most remarkable feature in the gold rate is the dependence here on the bond quotation in London, and there our securities do not keep pace with the advance in the price of English funds. Consols have advanced to 95⅞, an advance of 3⅛ per cent. during the month, whilst our bonds remain stationary at 72⅞, which is nearly ¾ per cent. below New York quotations. It would be reasonable to suppose that, with a large increase of coin in the Bank of England and France, and an unprecedented low rate of interest there, 2½ per cent. at bank, and 1½@2 per cent. in the open market,—our securities should be eagerly sought for and sympathize with other securities. On the other hand, it shows a want of confidence in the state of commercial and political affairs, these and the advance is mainly to a desire to invest temporarily to earn interest on capital until trade is in a more settled condition and confidence restored.

Government bonds are steady but not in demand; a general disposition prevails to sell odd lots of bonds instead, as was formerly the case, to purchase the fractions and make a round sum.

The share market is dull and devoid of any desire to speculate for a rise. Border State Bonds are in request at advanced rates. A good and low priced investment security is now offered in the Pacific Railroad Bonds at 90c on the dollar.

—Secretary McCulloch's recent letter on the public finances is attracting a good deal of attention. The New York Tribune comments upon it as follows:

Mr. Secretary McCulloch's letter to the Boston merchants promises to become as famous as his Fort Wayne speech. The latter convinced every one that he was going to inaugurate an era of lower prices, and on the strength of it all the smart men of Wall street sold stocks short. Instead of falling, they rose 15@25 per cent., and the Secretary's followers were cleaned out. The Boston letter has set all the shorts to cover and the bulls to buy. Let them beware, lest the Secretary's performance in this case should belie his promise, as it did in that. Buyers for a rise will likewise do well to remember that, even should the Secretary suspend for the present the cancellation of plain legal tender, he does not promise not to cancel the $18,000,000 of compound legal tender which mature in June and July, and which now constitute a portion of the bank reserve. On the contrary, it is well understood that he intends to pay off and destroy these notes, reserving the $50,000,000 of three per cent. certificates for the August and September notes. The banks will find this amount of contraction quite sufficient to keep them conservative. Mr. McCulloch pays a poor compliment to his friends in Congress when he says that "the views a majority * * * were adverse to immediate contraction." People generally rather understood, on the contrary, that while the expansionists constituted a considerable body in the last Congress, the sound men were in a majority on every test vote, and that they enacted a law—which the Secretary seems afraid to execute—directing a monthly curtailment of $4,000,000 of legal tenders. But, after all, the gist of the Boston letter may reside in this paragraph:

Fourth: Anticipating that the failure of the crops and the other circumstances alluded to, would seriously affect business, I have considered it important that the public mind should not be diverted, by the criticisms and complaints of those who are opposed to contraction, from the real causes of trouble; that a sound policy should not be put in peril by being made the "scapegoat" for evils resulting from different causes.

In other words, the Secretary deems a revulsion so inevitable from other causes than the contraction of the currency that he don't wish to make himself even seemingly responsible for what he cannot avert. There is some shrewdness in this.

The letter is not expansive except in the estimation of those whose wish is father to the thought. While the Secretary writes soothingly he pushes on the funding of the short currency debt with long bonds, and steadily approaches the time when he has nothing but plain greenbacks to redeem, and has an ample fund in gold with which to do it.

The Times says: The letter of the Secretary of the Treasury to the Boston Merchants, which appeared this morning, imparted a more confident tone to the stock and money markets. For although the letter contains nothing new of the financial situation of the Government and the ways and means of the Treasury, or even of the purpose and calculations of the Secretary in regard to the greenback currency and the course of the public debt, which was not made known from Washington and discussed by this and other city journals three weeks ago, its official form over the signature of Mr. McCulloch, has removed all remaining apprehension of a further reduction of the greenback circulation. The mere settlement of this point will accomplish much positive good to business interests outside the Stock and gold exchanges, and this important consideration we can well afford to set off against any attempt which may be made by speculation to advance the premium on gold or to unduly inflate the stock market.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
FRIDAY, May 31, 1867.

CRUDE—The market was a little more active to-day, but there is still plenty of room for improvement, both as regards demand and prices. We can report a sale of 1500 barrels, on spot, at 7½c, and 1000 bbls to be delivered between the 15th and 30th of June, seller's option, at 7½c. The arrivals continue very light, and no improvement in this respect need be looked for until prices let down at Oil City or advance here, and it don't look much like doing either at present.

REFINED—We have a sale of 2500 barrels standard white reported at 26½c, delivered in Philadelphia—500 bbls May, 500 June, 500 July, 500 August, and 500 September; also, 500 bbls prime light straw to white, for immediate delivery in Philadelphia, at 23½c—these are the lowest prices we have had reported this season, and they will certainly look anything but interesting to some of our people who invested some two or three months ago on speculation.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
FRIDAY, May 31, 1866.

The general markets were again dull to-day, notwithstanding the weather was clear and pleasant, and all that could possibly have been desired for the transaction of out-door business. Flour continues very dull, and as the impression seems to be general that the price of this commodity must decline materially, both dealers and consumers are restricting their purchases to the very lowest possible limit. Grain, also, with the exception of Oats, is dull and drooping, and in commercial circles the opinion prevails that business, generally, will be dull until towards fall.

GRAIN—There is no Wheat in this market excepting what is in the hands of millers. Corn is dull and neglected, and prime shelled cannot be quoted above 93@95c. Oats a little weak but unchanged; sale of 300 bushels on track, at 72c. Rye is dull and drooping; we are cognizant of a small sale at $1,66, but $1,65 seems to be regarded as the market price. Barley is quiet; indeed there is not enough doing to establish quotations.

FLOUR—Continues exceedingly dull, and while the tendency is still toward lower rates, prices are without quotable change. We continue to quote at $13,50@14,25 for Spring Wheat; $15@15,50 for Winter Wheat; and $18@19 for fancy brands. Rye Flour $9,50@10.

PROVISIONS—Bacon is steady, with regular jobbing sales at previous quotations. We continue to quote at 9½c for Shoulders; 11¼ to 12½c for Ribbed and Clear Sides; 15¼ for Plain Sugar Cured; 14c for Plain Hams, and 16½c for Canvassed Sugar Cured Hams. Lard, 13 to 13½c; Dried Beef, 22½ to 23c, and Mess Pork, $23 to $23,50.

BUTTER—Is coming in more freely, and as a consequence, the market is getting dull again and prices are tending downward. Prime to choice Roll may be quoted at 15@18c. A prominent New York dealer, who was in the city yesterday, stated that he could not promise more than 17c for prime Western Butter in New York.

EGGS—Steady but the supply is fully equal to the demand, and the receipts, if anything, appear to be increasing. Fresh packed may be fairly quoted at 17c.

CHEESE—Is dull but unchanged—sales at 14@15c, as to quality.

POTATOES—Scarce and firm, with small sales of prime Peach Blows in store at $1,45@1,50 per bushel.

GREEN APPLES—To use a common expression, are about "played out." Occasional small sales at $10 per bbl.

DRIED FRUIT—Is quiet and unchanged. small sales at 7½@9c for Apples, and 10@14c for Peaches.

HAY—Prime baled Hay is in fair demand, and may be quoted at $25@27 per ton.

OIL—Lard Oil is selling in a regular way at 87@88c for No. 1, and $1,08@1,10 for No. 2.

PITTSBURGH METAL AND BLOOM MARKET—WEEKLY REVIEW.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
FRIDAY, May 31, 1867.

There has been a continued steady demand for metal throughout the week which has just closed, and the transactions in the aggregate are larger than during any preceding week since the mills resumed operations, though, as a general thing, the sales were in comparatively small lots. Prices have undergone no quotable change, though holders are a little firmer in their views, and as stocks are only moderate there is no disposition manifested to make concessions in order to effect sales. For Foundry Iron, the demand is rather light, business in that department of trade being dull, and as a consequence, holders find it a little difficult to sell this grade of metal. Blooms are in fair demand but lower—we heard reports of offers to sell No. 1 at $97, cash, which is $3 per ton below any sale we have reported.

Gold Closed at 136⅞.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, May 31, 1867.

GOLD AND MONEY.

Money active and call loans plump 7 per cent. Weak parties said to have paid 7 in gold in some instances. Sub Treasurer disbursing freely and the balance is down to nearly six millions. To-day he bought nearly six millions of 7-30 notes, which will be delivered to-morrow, and the disbursements on this account will give partial relief. Sterling firm at 110@110⅛. This advance was caused by the reduction in the rate of interest in the Bank of England. Gold lower and opened at 136⅞, advanced to 137¼ and closed 36⅞ bid. As supply bills and Exchange are limited, it is supposed that the shipments of specie to-morrow will be important.

THREE PER CENT CERTIFICATES.

Mr. Van Dyck, Assistant Treasurer, has received a supply of three per cent. certificates, and is engaged signing them. They are not, however, to be paid out till August, as compound notes maturing in June and July will be paid in currency. Frazier, Trenholm & Co. offer to pay 15s on the pound and 5s on short time rates of sterling. ## RIVER NEWS.

The river continues to recede steadily at this point with scant ten feet in the channel by the Monongahela, and scant eleven feet by the Allegheny marks last evening. The weather yesterday was clear and pleasant, and all that could possibly be desired for the transaction of out door business.

The Belle arrived from Cincinnati last evening with a good trip; her manifest will be found elsewhere. She returns to-day.

The towboats Mary Ann and Simpson Horner, for Louisville, and the Sampson, Niagara and Fox, for Cincinnati, with tows of coal, have departed or will depart to-day. The Horner, most probably will continue on to New Orleans. The Mary Davage and N. J. Bigley have arrived.

The Belle, Capt. Laughrey, with Mr. J. W. Chambers, in the office, is the regular packet for Cincinnati to-day, and we hope she will receive, as she deserves, a good trip. The Belle, in connection with the Argosy, is making regular weekly trips between here and Cincinnati.

The Ida Rees, Capt. Joe. Brown, will positively leave for Cincinnati and Louisville this evening, and passengers and shippers should bear this in mind. The Minnie, Capt. Shaw, is new in turn for St. Louis, and will be the first boat out.

The R. C. Gray, with seven hundred tons of railroad iron, arrived at Cincinnati on Wednesday, and the Julia No. 2 was advertised to leave there for Pittsburgh on Thursday.

ELISHA BENNETT.—Passengers for the up river points along the Monongahela Valley can do no better than by getting aboard of the magnificent floating palace Elisha Bennett, Captain S. A. Cox. It is the best craft of the popular line it represents and will compare in finish, excellence and accommodation with any boat on the lower trade. Captain Cox is as clever and obliging as any one could desire, and will be found, with his excellent and worthy clerks, in the office to welcome and care for patrons.

The weather at Memphis is not unlike the visitations which we of a more northern climate have experienced. The Bulletin says:

The present season is probably the most backward experienced for years. It has been customary at this time of the year to indulge considerably in straw hats and linen clothing in this latitude, but garments of this kind are not in vogue at present, while on the other hand, overcoats are quite common in the streets.

Captain Henry Brolaski, a favorite commander of the Northern Line Packet Company, is about to retire from the river.

The location of the projected bridge over the Ohio river at Louisville, has not yet been definitely settled. A route running down on the west side of the Elm Tree Garden, below the canal bridge, was laid out, but it is now understood that the crossing will be made higher up, and nearly on the line of Fourteenth street.

Captain Joe Banfil, of Memphis, has quit steamboating and gone into the whisky rectifying business.

A boiler in the extensive steamboat bread and cracker bakery of Joseph Garneau, of Saint Louis exploded on Monday, instantly killing the engineer, David Jones, who was formerly engineer on the steamboat Ned Tracy.

As the subject of fast time is attracting no small amount of attention just now, we copy the following from the Louisville Courier:

FAST RUNS.—We think the first Peytona, the peerless, that was under the command of Capt. John Shallcross, the hull built by James Murray, of this city, was the fastest boat that ever floated. In 1839 she made a business trip from Memphis to Cairo in seventeen hours and thirty-two minutes, including three or four landings, and towing two wood flats nearly an hour, and taking on board eighty cords of wood. This, together with her landings, was fully one hour's time lost, reducing her actual running time to less than sixteen and a half hours. In her time doctor engines and metallic packings were unknown, and in making a landing the steam had to be working off and the volume of water in the boilers increased, as extra precautions for safety while the engines were stopped, as there were no means of pumping up boilers except by hand. The Peytona, on a trial run, without stopping her engines, would have made the trip from Memphis to Cairo in fifteen hours.

Capt. Dryden telegraps to the Cincinnati Commercial, under date of Wednesday, as follows: The river is at a stand, with nine feet in the pass over the falls. Clear and pleasant, the warmest day this spring. At 12 m., in sun, the mercury indicated 110 degrees above zero, and in the shade 81 at 1 p. m. The towboats Tom Rees and Fred Wilson came down with coal from Pittsburgh. The New York received a lot of merchandise here, and passed over the falls for St. Louis with a fair trip. Four coal barges passed over the falls to-day for below. The Julia No. 2 passed up.

A rowing match took place at Galena, on Thursday afternoon for twenty dollars a side, between Ed Walsh, with the boat Gen. Grant, and Jo Jones with the boat Galena. The stakes were won by Walsh. Both contestants has been under training two weeks, and considerable interest was manifested in the contest by Galenians. Another contest is on the tapis for $100 purse.

Capt. John B. Baldwin, an old steamboatman, was arrested and imprisoned in St. Louis last week for marrying his wife over again, with whom he had lived happily for twenty-five years. A month previous he had been sentenced to pay a fine of $300 and six months' imprisonment, for naughty conduct toward a fascinating female calling herself Annie Blake. The wife interceded, like a true woman, and the Judge made the fine nominal and released the prisoner, who, determined to be true thereafter, insisted on another marriage, whence to take a fresh start. The friends of Annie Blake hearing of this marriage, lodged complaint and had him prosecuted for bigamy. The necessary affidavit was made by a brother of Annie, and on a warrant issued, Baldwin was imprisoned, where he was detained in consequence of the sickness of the Judge. There is some talk of making a raise of $4000 for false imprisonment, for the law is yet unknown that punishes a man for marrying his own wife a second time.

The Dubuque papers mention the arrival of the Phil. Sheridan in 4½ hours from St. Louis. The Herald, of the 28th, says: "Captain W. F. Davidson arrived in town Sunday on the Itasca, and departed yesterday for St Paul. His visit here was in the interest of the company. It is rumored that the Phil. Sheridan is to be put on to run in opposition to the Northern line, between this city and St. Louis. Such a course would be fool hardy, and result in heavy loss, as one line is barely paying expenses."

C. H. Merry, a transfer agent at Dubuque, we are informed by the Herald of that city, has under contract the building of twenty bulk barges on the Ohio river, with a capacity varying from twenty to twenty-five thousand bushels, which will be ready for the fall business. Each barge will contain a steam engine and an elevator, the right of which to use Mr. Merry claims to be an invention of his own. The elevator will have a discharging capacity of 2500 bushels per hour and be capable of emptying grain into any sized vessel at New Orleans or cars along the river bank. Another improvement is in the construction of shovels worked by machinery to bring grain from each end of the boat to the center, where it comes in contact with the elevator and is hoisted out.

The Wheeling Intelligencer, of yesterday, says: Intelligence was received by the owners of the boat yesterday that the "nigger" boiler of the St. Marys had exploded at 10 a. m., scalding two of the engineers, and injuring the boat to a considerable extent.

W. G. Battelle, Esq., yesterday, sold to parties in Pittsburgh his eight-oared barge, the Lady Gay, formerly Undine, for $150. She will be shipped to Pittsburgh this morning.

MEDICAL.

CONSUMPTION!

It would take a man a lifetime to read the treatises that have been written upon this important subject, and if a sick man were to attempt it he would make himself worse by the reading, and die before he got half through. The symptoms of the disease are, hacking cough, expectoration of matter or pus, pain in one or both lungs, chilliness, burning in the palms of the hands and soles of the feet, exhausting day night sweats, hectic fever, wasting of flesh or marasmus, sometimes expectoration of blood. These are the usual outward symptoms, apparent not only to the observing physician, but to the patient's friends. There are, however, more important symptoms than these, which are only made manifest by auscultation and percussion, terms which mean, in a medical sense, thumping and listening, and they are employed outwardly in order to ascertain what is going on inside of the cavity of chest. The signs or symptoms elicited in this way are almost surely demonstrate the true and exact condition of the respiratory organs. A perfect auscultator can not fail in ascertaining whether the Lungs are acting naturally or not. Hence it is the best method of examining the lungs. Their actual condition once discovered, the appropriate treatment is more rapidly arrived at, and every diseased part more completely under the influence of appropriate remedies. We have long been of the opinion that consumption or decay, or wasting of the bodily strength, was dependent on a depraved state of the blood, which carries, in its course, tuberculous matter, and deposits it in the lungs, or elsewhere in the body, just as calculi or stone is deposited in the bladder, a small particle of which attracts other particles, until it becomes of such offense to the natural functions as to bring on inflammatory action, which action, if it could, would carry it out of the system, and which could have been easily done in the beginning of such disease. Dr. KEYSER'S PECTORAL SYRUP is a complete and perfect cure in the forming stage of lung disease. It acts on the very principle we have stated above, by enabling the securing or carrying off organs to do a double share of work. Waste and repair are easily comprehended, and if the worn out material be carried off, and the renewing material of a proper character, there must be health and ease, the contrary of sickness and dis-ease. In many cases of consumption which have become settled, Dr. Keyser's Pectoral Syrup fails to cure, although it will do good in nearly all. He prepares a medicine called LUNG CURE or PULMONARY RESTORATIVE, which is a great tonic, and strengthens and restores the parts to be renewed, while it dissolves and carries out from the body those particles of worn out or extraneous matter, which only tend to clog or destroy it, by hindering the renewing material being deposited in proper place.

PULMONARY CONSUMPTION, RESULTING FROM PLEURISY, CURED.

Statement of George Ford, carpenter, of No. 16 Sampson street, Allegheny City:

I took a violent attack of pleurisy, in May, 1866, which left me with a cough lasting all summer, wearing away my strength and gradually undermining my health. During this attack of pleurisy I had several physicians of the highest reputation in the city. After I had partially recovered from the pleurisy, I was advised to go into the country, which I did, and when there called in a doctor, who to'd me my left lung was affected, and that if something were not done soon I would die of CONSUMPTION. I lingered on from this time until about the middle of June, my cough and lung disease gradually growing worse, and I weaker every day, and almost despairing of ever getting well. In this state of despondency, and knowing the general belief of the incurability of Consumption, and having heard of cures made by DR. KEYSER, and seeing his advertisement in the newspapers, I was induced in October last to call on the Doctor at his office, 120 Penn street, and had him examine my lungs with his "LUNG SOUND." He told me the upper lobe of my left lung was very much diseased, but he thought with great care and the perseverance in the use of his medicine, I would get well. At the time I called on Dr. Keyser my pulse was over one hundred and thirty beats in a minute, and I was generally prostrated, and had to cough night and day. I commenced the Doctor's treatment in October, with a feeble, broken constitution, and continued it faithfully until the present time. The Doctor's medicines helped me from the very start, and could gradually feel myself getting stronger and my cough and expectoration lessening. I have gained greatly in flesh, and consider myself well; all the rattling of my lung has ceased and my general health is in every way good. All my relatives and friends know of the advanced stage of my disease and my extraordinary recovery. One of the medicines given me by Dr. Keyser was a medicine called LUNG CURE which I took in connection with the other treatment.

GEORGE FORD.

PITTSBURGH, March 30, 1867.

ANOTHER CURE OF CONSUMPTION.

STATEMENT OF JOHN G. WIGHAM, OF TURTLE CREEK, ALLEGHENY COUNTY.

I was discharged from the United States army in January, 1866, on account of a wound in the head, from a shell, and a disease which the army physicians pronounced CONSUMPTION. I had a terrible cough and fell away in strength and flesh and was unable to do anything. Shortly after my return from the army, I made application to a physician of my neighborhood and, afterwards, to another in Pittsburgh of high reputation, whose remedies I used faithfully for five months, without any benefit whatever, but rather grew worse, and wasted in flesh and strength every day. In August, 1866, my mother took me to DOCTOR KEYSER, of 120 Penn street, whose skill in such cases like mine had been highly spoken of and put myself under his treatment. The Doctor examined my lungs very carefully with his LUNG SOUND, and told me that my left lung was badly diseased at the upper part, but if I was careful he thought he could cure me by following his directions closely, which I did from that day to this. I gradually improved under Dr. Keyser's medicines from the first week I commenced to take them, and my general health has improved, and my chest, where it was sunken away, and where it pained me, has become full and strong and free from pain. I can now do a full day's work, and take great pleasure in giving my testimony in favor of Dr. Keyser's treatment and medicines.

JOHN G. WIGHAM,
Turtle Creek.

PITTSBURGH, April 11th, 1867.

A case of five years' standing cured by DR KEYSER'S PECTORAL SYRUP:

DR. KEYSER:—My wife has been afflicted with a cough and difficulty of breathing for five or six years, which, for several years back, had gradually increased in violence. The complaint has been hereditary, and she had been treated by several physicians without any relief. In this state of her case I procured some of your PECTORAL COUGH SYRUP. I bought the first time a fifty cent bottle, which relieved her very much; I then called and got a dollar bottle, which cured her entirely, and she has now no trace of the former disease, except weakness. I would also state that I used the medicine myself to a cold and cough. The medicine cured me by taking one dose. I express my entire satisfaction with the medicine, and you are at liberty to publish this if you desire to do so.

WM. WILSON,
Alderman, Fifth Ward.

Our son, JAMES PAINTER, some three years of age was afflicted with consumption of the lungs, for which he was discharged from the army. He was examined by four army physicians, who all agreed that he must die with the disease. We brought him to Dr. KEYSER, 140 Wood street, (now 120 Penn street,) who, after sounding his lungs, commenced to treat him, and cured him sound and well. He is now well and has been so for the past three years. Others afflicted in like manner can likewise be cured.
